

LAND SHARK PLEADS IN VAIN FOR MERCY

Wealthy Realty Secretary Gets a Three-Year Sentence for Robbing a Poor Man.

John L. Rosell, wealthy Secretary of the Darlington Realty Company, was sentenced in Special Sessions, the Bronx, to serve a maximum term of three years on Blackwell's Island on a charge of stealing $2 from a Turkish bath rubber. His conviction, resulting from The World's crusade against crooked realty promoters, is a warning to those who would rob the poor.

About sixty complaints against Rosell were investigated by The World. His operations had cost the poor thousands of dollars. He boasted he had conducted his business "just within the law." He gave his business address as No. 26 Court Street, Brooklyn.

He expressed great confidence at the opening of the three-hour session that he could "beat the case." When he was found guilty he paled and begged the court for a sixty-day suspended sentence, promising in that time to make complete restoration to his scores of victims, many of whom were in court.

In pronouncing sentence Justice Salmon said he hoped that Rosell's fate would deter other operators from defrauding the poor. He said that such criminals needed a severe lesson, and he hoped the action of the court would become widely known.

Ex-Royalty at Gem Sale.

LAUSANNE, Jan. 16.—Four former monarchs who are living in this country were interested spectators at the sale of the jewels and objects of art owned by the estate of the late Prince Vera Loidoff of Russia here yesterday.

They were former King Constantine and his Queen of Greece, and former Emperor and Empress Charles and Zita of Austria-Hungary. They made no purchases.

A Parisian dealer bought a necklace for $100,000, and other jewels brought very high prices.

THE Misses' Suit Shop attributes its style supremacy pre-eminently to the spirit of its suits. Quality of fabric, excellence of tailoring, up-to-dateness of style, to be sure, but then, a psychological something—the youthful spirit. This duvet de laine suit sounds the keynote of youth in fashion. The coat flares jauntily, the fur collar muffles cozily, the interlining protects warmly. It is well tailored, from the hand-bound buttonholes to the silk lining. Sizes 14 to 20 years.
